

Iris Waste Diversion Specialists, Inc.

Business Food Scrap Collection Service

We're waste reduction experts in the business of continuously looking for ways to stop things from (literally!) going to waste.

To keep raw, vegetative food scraps from the landfill and help your business do the same, we offer an easy, reliable collection program that won't break your budget.

We deliver the food scraps to 5Heart Earthworm Farm where they are composted and then fed to thousands of hungry worms that produce worm castings, a rich soil builder.

When your business uses our food scrap collection service, you're supporting healthy soils and taking action to reverse climate change.

For pricing information and to sign up, contact:

Sarah Archer
(734) 476-2186
sarah@iriswds.com

We believe in following nature's examples of returning what came from the earth back to the earth.

www.iriswds.com

How the Business Program Works

- 1. Sign up for collection service, and we'll figure out the best-sized containers for your business and a schedule for servicing them.
- 2. We will deliver the containers and provide guidelines and training to you and your staff about the service.
- 3. Post the program guidelines and you can begin collecting your raw, vegetative food scraps in the containers!
- 4. We'll pick up the containers on a regular schedule and replace them with empty, clean ones. We'll check in occasionally to make sure all is well, and email a monthly invoice with a report that includes the weight of the food scraps we've collected from your business. Confirmation of the difference your business is making!
- 5. You can proudly let your customers know you are taking climate action by keeping your food scraps out of landfills, where they would otherwise create methane - a known contributor to climate change.

Together with our customers, tons of food scraps are diverted from the landfill each year!

Thank you for giving a SCRAP!

EARTHWORM
-FARM-